The Silver Question.

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette:

BROAD EUN STATION, Va., Nov. 8, 1891 -The cilver question is one of interest at the present time and we often hear it discussed, but there is one point in connection with it Health is Wealth! we do not often see alleded to-but is the juntoe of the demonstration of the demonstration the two models or in took corjointly. Such having always been the case neither party thought of a charge sent all likely. Now was it just to the debter class, to which belonged the nation, the State and individuals, to use from it the privilegs, which by law and common consent it erjoyed, of paying in either of the two metals, and to force it to pay all debts in gold or its equivalent, thus curtailing the mensy is which debts might be paid and making them hard to pay because of this curtailment. Would any man who had contracted to pay a debt in a tree course on the statistic or in both other corn or wheat at his option, or in both if he liked it before think times! justly treated if, without his consent, the resure of his contract was so chemical as to compel nim to pay in whichever of the two night be the harder to get, and therefore cost him the more end he worth the more to his orediter in labor in a production? Now jesice should be the first thing considered in making or unmaking laws.

But, again; is a law which was stoled upon our book of Statutory Laws, without he knowledge either of our people or our aw-makers, in the great moral and right senses an honest law? If a law is atolen from the great mass of the people, or even from a small minority of them, and they thereby less a privilege which was theirs, when that their is discovered is it hences in the eight of God or man to withhold from the party robbed the value of which he was abased mader either this pretance or that? Does not simple justice demand first of all that the right be restored to him from whom it was stolen, and then, if it be for the comwon good that such change he made, let it be made enemly and honorably and with jus-tice to all. Those who are acquainted with the legislation by which sliver was demone-dized brow that it was a dark and overteet, as urjust to the debtor class as it was uncus-pected by them, and that it was not and could not in open honesty have passed sich-MED. A GREAT MAGAZINE. The Century's Programme in 1892 -A New "Life of Columbus"—Ar-ticles for Farmers, etc.

The tgreat American periodical, The Century, is going to cutdo its own unrivaled record in its programme for 1892, and as many of its new features begin with the November number, new readers should commance with that issue. In this number are the opening chapters of "The Nanlahks," a novel by Rudyard Kipling, the famous author of "Plains Tales from the Hills," written in coll bear in with an American writer, Wolcott Bales ier. It is the story of a young man and a young woman from a "tooming" Colerado lowe, who go to India, he in search of a wonderfulj weled neckiese, called the Naulahks," (from which the story takes its name), and the as a physician to zonan. The novel describes their remarkable adventures at the court of an Indian maher, i.h. Be ides this, The Century will prior maker sich. Bosides this, The Century will prior three other no reledening the year, and a great number of short stories by the best American story-writers.

The well known humorist Edgar W. Nye ("Bill Nye") is to write a series of amusing sketches which he calls his "aniobiographies," the first one of which, "The Autobiography of a Justice of the Peace," is in November. This number also contains a valuable and suggestive article on "The Food Supply of the Fature," which every farmer should read, to be followed by a number of others of great practical value to farmers, treating especially of the relations of the government to the farmer, what it is doing and what it should do. This scries will include contributions from officers of the Department of Agriculture, and other well-known men will discuss "The Farmer's Discontent," "Cooperation," etc., etc.

A calebrated Spanish writer is to furnith a "Life of Co'umbur," which will be brilliantly illustrated, and the publishers of The Century have arranged with the managers of the World's Fair to print articles on the buildings, etc.

One of the nevels to appear in 1892 is A Story of New York, if ife, by the suther of "The Anglomaniacs," and the magaine will contain a great deal about the materpolis during the year,—arrong other things as rice of illustrated artis is on "The Jews in New York." In November is an illustrated description of "The Payers' Club," funded by Edwin Rooth, and one of the features of the splentidly illustrated Christmas (December) number is an article or "The Fowery."
